Thanks to WLT's prompt response to the new law that allows employers to extend the Benefit Period on Flex Accounts, we were able to offer this product to our clients. We were surprised and very pleased by the number of request we had for this product. Way to go WLT!!

MediWeb has proven to be a valuable on-line tool for our members, providers and vendors. It's easy to use and has a ton of features that save time and streamline communications with our customers. Our members especially enjoy the convenience of being able to send secure email and print their own EOBs and temporary ID cards from home. Our providers and vendors are thrilled to have access to real-time information without having to call. It's great!

*Liz Halvorson, Claims Supervisor
A&I Benefit Plan Administrators, Inc.*

Professional Benefits uses the MediWeb System for allowing our clients to access on-line enrollment, view claims lookups and find plan information. When we make our presentation of the MediWeb product to our clients they have all commented on the fact that it is one of the most user friendly web sites they have had access to. The staff at MediWeb along with WLT has been very open to suggestions that have helped develop the product to the needs of the TPA industry.

Dawn D. Reynolds, VP of Claims Management, Professional Benefits

We have been using the Custom MICR Check Program Module since February, 2005. We replaced the quick checks module from another company which we had used for several years.

We have found the WLT MICR Check Program easy to use and reliable in operation. We encode the bank information on the bottom of blank check stock and have saved a significant amount in cost by not having to have custom checks for each of our accounts. This also allows the changing of accounts and/or banks with very little inconvenience or waste of forms. The MICR fonts also enable us to have the checks signed at printing which saves quite a bit of time in processing. In short, we believe the use of this program with the MICR fonts is the most efficient way to process the large number of payments produced each month.

In the rare instances we have had questions about the program, the staff at WLT has handled our requests and service quickly and efficiently. They are knowledgeable on the program and have been very helpful.

We had an enhancement made to the program and the cost was fair and the implementation was timely.

We are pleased with the operation of this module and recommend it to anyone who wants to streamline their operation.

Bruce McKinney, President Preferred Administrators

We have been using the new MediClaims HRA module since January. With 70% of our members enrolled in an HRA benefit program, it was critical for us to have an integrated and comprehensive solution. The system setup/build was user-friendly and flexible, and the initial fund balance load was done 'with the touch of a button'. The MediClaims HRA module allows us to administer this benefit in a streamlined, efficient, and integrated fashion.

Kim Hlobik, Director, The Health Exchange

Powerful, accurate and easy to use, MediWeb gives our clients and their employers the information that they want and need. The fact that it is "real time" is just icing on the cake!

I just wanted to say how pleased we are with the new MICR check program. We had been using an outside program to run our checks causing us problems with re-runs and not having useful EOBs. The new check program is giving us what we needed and what our customers and providers wanted. Once the program was in place we were off and running with no problems. Thank you again for all your suggestions and help.

In the past we have found several CompClaims modules where customization to fit our unique niche market processing was necessary. WLT consolidated key premium accounting fields to speed up the process. Since then our premium processing times have significantly improved. Recently one of our clients requested more detail in the premium history. WLT worked with us to capture different types of adjustments and track them individually. Our client was very happy with the new information and quick response time. WLT has consistently responded to our requests for system improvements or customizations. We look forward to continuing our relationship.
